Fort Wilkins Historic State Park Supervisor....*

As I start this letter, I want to thank the Fort Wilkins Natural History Association (FWNHA) for helping to make this past year a successful one. Your support was instrumental in providing an excellent experience to our visitors.

2012 was an excellent year at Fort Wilkins. The fort saw 122,977 visitors in 2012. Total attendance was up 13.3% when compared to 2011. Camping was up 9.6% and Day use was up 15%. Your support for park events, programs, and improvements figured heavily into visitor use and enjoyment. This year 1,470 people attended 39 evening programs. This is an average attendance of 37.7 people per program. Attendance of popular Fort Wilkins Natural History Association Sponsored Events was very good as well.

- Memorial Day Program 450 visitors
- Battery D Day Use up 25% & Camping up 11%
- Fort Wilkins By Candlelight 450 visitors
- Fall Festival and Geocaching 150 participants

I would also like to thank all of the individuals and groups who volunteered their time and resources to do programs. Their expertise and passion show in their programs. Their efforts help to make Fort Wilkins the special place it is. Visit <http://www.fortwilkinsnha.org> to see the complete list of 2012 programs and what's planned for 2013.

The new Married Enlisted Men's Cabin exhibits opened in July. Funding for this project was made possible through a 2011 Keweenaw Heritage Grant we received from the Keweenaw National Historic Park (KNHP) and the Advisory Commission. As part of the new exhibit the 1st cabin has been restored and now serves as an orientation exhibit.

Over the past year we also made it a priority to provide better service and amenities to all our visitor by addressing several accessibility issues.

- Installed accessible faucets in the old east and west toilet/shower buildings
- Installed Board counter in the Campground Office
- Installed accessible pathway and viewing area to mine pit exhibit near the park store.
- Installed accessible pathway into Fort

If you visited the fort at the end of July you may have noticed an unusually high number of workers. Sixteen teachers volunteered nearly 800 hours at Fort Wilkins Historic State Park. The Teacher Restoration Corps, (www.teacherrestorationcorps.org), donated their skills and time towards cultural stewardship projects at the fort. The volunteers worked alongside PRD staff on three cedar shingle historic privy roofs, stockade restoration, and multiple painting projects. The volunteers worked at the fort July 30 through Aug. 5.

The Teacher Restoration Corps is a non-profit service organization established in 1996 by Dave and Margaret Dobkoski of East Troy, Wisconsin. Their mission is to: “restore humankind's imprint on federal lands.” While not on federal land, the fort's Keweenaw Heritage Site partnership with Keweenaw National Historical Park satisfied the group's purpose to improve cultural resources that contribute to the nation's heritage.

We (Parks and Recreation Division & Michigan Historical Center) will be undertaking two exciting research projects in 2013. The first is a Phase I Archeological Survey for 400+ acres on the south side of Lake Fanny Hooe. This project was successfully funded through a donation from the FWNHA, a 2012 Keweenaw Heritage Grant (KNHP & Advisory Commission), and cultural stewardship funds allocated by the DNR's Park and Recreation Division. The second is a Historic Structures Report (HSR) for the Historic Range Light District. The HSR will facilitate the rehabilitation and public interpretation of the Copper Harbor Range Light Station, including the 1868 Rear Range Light and Keeper's Quarters, Barn, Front Range Light, and Rear Range Light. This project is being funded by a Michigan Lighthouse Assistance Program grant administered by the State Historic Preservation Office and allocated cultural resource funds from the DNR's Parks and Recreation Division Stewardship Office. These projects will aid in the preservation and future interpretation of non-fort related cultural resources located within Fort Wilkins Historic State Park.

2013 is shaping up to be an exciting summer. Thanks to the FWNHA we will be introducing a new series of youth programs. It is our goal to engage both young people from the area and young people visiting the area. Preservation and restoration work will continue inside "Old Fort Wilkins". Two of the larger projects scheduled are the roof replacement on the west mess hall and the replacement of several logs on Married Enlisted Men's Cabin #4.

As we wrap up the completion of a successful year at Fort Wilkins Historic State Park I look forward to working together to meet the challenges and opportunities ahead. I want to take one last opportunity to thank the FWNHA for their efforts to promote the area, preserve our history, and share the Fort Wilkins story. If you have any questions or ideas, please contact me at 906-289-4215.
